Distance Learning 2010

After a tried and successful first year I invite you to sign up for the pro-active, interactive, and participatory Distance Learning Course of Time to Teach A Course in Miracles 2010. This year we started with two groups. The first group is english speaking; english as the first or second language called "DL 2010". The second group is a spanish speaking group called "despierta". The english group still has two spots free. The spanish group still has room for four more participants. You can enroll at the start of each new phase.

The Distance Learning is an intimate interactive, online, home-study course. It revolves around weekly online classes, monthly educational and training classes, and quarterly writing and publishing assignments.

You spend quality time with yourself and Jesus as you prepare for classes, write essays, and complete additional tasks. The periods of quiet are interspersed with interactive activities such as class, chats, correspondence, 'one on one' phone calls, educational and training classes, and conference calls.

The Distance Learning offers an additional variety of tools and resources such as audio and video tutorials and classes, a reference library, a quarterly Ezine, and a supportive class community.

It takes one year to complete the Course; four phases of 13 weeks each. After completion you can become a Time to Teach A Course in Miracles facilitator and start your own Class or Distance Learning group. But most importantly you will gain the trust and certainty to teach A Course in Miracles in the way that comes most natural to you.

Unique advantages:

- Participate from your own home.
- Fulfill tasks in your own time and at your own convenience.
- Meet and become friends with teachers from different parts of the country and the world.
- Teach 5-20 minutes in an online class every week.
- Receive personal feedback.
- Post and publish on the internet.
- Share and evaluate your personal experiences.
- Watch and listen to video and audio classes.
- Make use of suggested readings and web links.
- Receive personal guidance and one on one talks with your facilitator.
- Be certified as a facilitator.

When:

The 'Distance Learning' course consists of four phases. Each of them takes exactly 13 weeks to complete.

- Phase 1, 'Initiation' started on Monday January 4, 2010 and ends on Sunday April 4, 2010.
- Phase 2, 'Dedication' started on Monday April 5, 2010 and ends on Sunday July 4, 2010.
- Phase 3, 'Transformation' starts on Monday July 5, 2010 and ends on Sunday October 3, 2010.
- Phase 4 'Declaration' starts on Monday October 4, 2010 and ends on Sunday January 2, 2011.

How to register:

The tuition costs for each phase is $250. That adds up to $1000 for the whole year if you enroll for one phase at a time. When you enroll for all four phases at once, the tuition is reduced to $900.
